Laurel Park fall meet follows same schedule as '09

Laurel Park will open on Saturday, September 11 for a 57-day fall meet based on a schedule that is virtually identical to 2009. The meet will conclude on December 18.

Live racing will be conducted four days a week, Wednesdays through Saturdays.

The only major departure from last year is the absence of the Frank J. De Francis Memorial Dash, which will not be run in 2010 in order to preserve purse money for overnight races.

The Dash was downgraded from Grade 1 to Grade 2 following its 2009 running.

"The MTHA's Negotiating Committee carefully reviewed the situation with track management," said MTHA President Richard Hoffberger, "and it was clear that giving the Dash this year off was the right thing to do. As Tom Chuckas [Maryland Jockey Club president and COO] has publicly explained, this has nothing to do with it no longer being a Grade 1 race."

Added Mr. Hoffberger: "We are hopeful that, as the slots revenue from the Cecil County and Ocean Downs sites begins to bolster the Purse Account by the end of this year, our economic recovery will begin. We look forward to better times in 2011."

Future of Maryland racing hinges on A.A. Co. referendum

On November 2, 2010, voters in Anne Arundel County will be asked to mark their ballots for or AGAINST a question that will ultimately decide the future of Maryland racing.

QUESTION A refers to zoning approval for the proposed slots site at Arundel Mills mall. If a majority of voters cast their ballot "for" QUESTION A, the slots site will be allowed to proceed, and the existence of nearby Laurel Park will be in jeopardy.

The defeat of QUESTION A will eliminate current slots zoning in the county, and potentially clear the way for the process to begin again.

QUESTION A

Local Referendum by Petition Zoning, Video Lottery Facilities

Video Lottery Facilities are not permitted anywhere in Anne Arundel County under current zoning law. Bill No. 82-09 is a zoning bill and was enacted for the purpose of allowing a Video Lottery Facility as a conditional use in a W-1 Industrial Park zoning district or at a Regional Commercial Complex.

Scholarship applications due Sept. 23

September 23 is the deadline to apply for aid from the Maryland Thoroughbred Scholarship Fund for 2010.

Individuals employed on the backstretch at Maryland tracks or at farms, training centers or veterinary clinics in Maryland, and enrolled this fall in college or graduate school, will be considered for these scholarships. More than $30,000 is available this year through the fund, which is supported by various industry groups and individuals, including the MTHA and Maryland

Horsemen's Assistance Fund.

The Maryland Racing Media Association sponsors the scholarship program and selects recipients, so as to avoid any potential conflict of interest.

Applications are available in the track kitchens at Bowie and Laurel and in the MTHA office at Laurel. They may also be downloaded from the MTHA Web site at www.mdhorsemen.com.

For more information contact David Richardson at (410) 239-7022; drichardson@darkhollowfarm.com.

Ehrlich campaigns on alliance with Rosecroft

Former Governor Robert L. Ehrlich, Jr. (R) has seized upon Rosecroft Raceway as a major campaign issue in his bid to unseat current Governor Martin O'Malley (D) in the November election.

"There is no bigger issue than the issue of [Rosecroft]," Mr. Ehrlich was quoted in the Prince George's Gazette. "If I win this election, I will put my heart into this place."

Mr. Ehrlich has allied himself with the Rosecroft interests and developer Mark Vogel, who is negotiating to purchase the bankrupt harness facility in Oxon Hill, Md., and turn it into a "major gaming destination." Rosecroft is not among the sites specified for slots under current law, and any gaming enterprise at that location would require action by the state legislature.

Rosecroft, which is well into its third year without live racing, ceased operation completely on July 1.

Meanwhile, Rosecroft and the Thoroughbred industry are embroiled in a bitterly contested lawsuit involving Rosecroft's access to Thoroughbred signals. On August 6, a U.S. District Court judge allowed Rosecroft to continue legal proceedings against the MTHA and other industry groups.

"We are confident that our side will prevail as the facts become known in the court and in Annapolis," said MTHA counsel Alan Foreman.

Notice to trainers

Laurel Park Director of Racing Georganne Hale reminds trainers:

♦ You must have your OK cards in with the paddock judge before a first-time starter is allowed to race. The trainers must pick up the cards from the assistant starters themselves.

♦ Please tell your exercise riders to pull up on the race track when they see the lights start flashing. DO NOT continue exercising. This is very dangerous when a rider is down and a horse is loose.

♦ Starting in September, schooling days for the starting gate will be Tuesdays through Saturdays at Laurel and Bowie. The times will remain the same.

MRMA to honor Woolley, Rodman at Crab Feast on October 23

The Maryland Racing Media Association's annual Crab Feast is set for Saturday, October 23 in the Carriage Room at Laurel Park, from 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m.

As usual, the menu includes all-you-can-eat crabs, plus a buffet featuring chicken and side dishes, as well as beer, wine and soft drinks.

Maryland Thoroughbred Scholarship Fund recipients will receive their checks at this event.

MRMA's annual awards will go to Maryland's past and current track announcers Richard (Dick) Woolley, who receives the Humphrey S. Finney Award for lifetime contributions to Maryland racing, and David Rodman, who is being honored for outstanding achievement.

Tickets are $60 each, or $550 for a table of 10. To order tickets call David Richardson at (410) 239-7022 or e-mail drichardson@darkhollowfarm.com.

Maryland Racing Commission

member Frank Favazza dies at 82

Frank F. Favazza, Jr., a retired construction magnate and former Thoroughbred owner/breeder who had served on the Maryland Racing Commission since 2007, died on August 11 at the age of 82.

Mr. Favazza, a native of Baltimore, began his career as a manual laborer and went on to be one of the area's most successful general contractors and building developers. His projects included countless office buildings, hotels and manufacturing plants, as well as the infield tunnel at Pimlico.

He purchased his first race horse in 1970, and remained active in the business for more than 20 years while making his home at his Triple F Farm in Worthington Valley. His trainers included John Tammaro and John Tammaro III, John Forbes and J. William Boniface.

"Frank was the American dream," said John Franzone, who served as chairman of the Commission during most of Mr. Favazza's tenure. "He was self-made and never forgot his roots. Like many of us who have been in this game for a while, he loved it until the end. He was a dependable and loyal member of the Racing Commission and most of all compassionate, fair-minded, always wanting to do the right thing."

As far as the racing industry goes, there has never been a more important vote than QUESTION A on the ballot in Anne Arundel County on November 2.

If you live in Anne Arundel County, make sure you vote AGAINST QUESTION A. Urge all of your friends and acquaintances in the county to do the same. A vote AGAINST QUESTION A is a vote for the long-term future of our industry.

1,001 reasons why you should donate to the Thoroughbred Horsemen's PAC

There could be as many as 1,001 reasons why a donation to the Thoroughbred Horsemen's Political Action Committee (PAC) makes good sense for you and your Maryland-based stable. But you need only one. It's as sound an investment as you'll ever make in this business. A major election looms in November. Marylanders will elect a governor, and all legislative seats will be up for vote. We must do our best to ensure that those who have supported the interests of the racing industry in the past have an opportunity to do so in the future.

Donations will go toward the election campaigns of state officials who hold the best promise for our industry. The Thoroughbred Horsemen's PAC advocates for the entire Maryland Thoroughbred industry, while promoting the interests of horsemen.

Thoughts and comment

Sad to say, many people still believe it doesn't matter where slots are located, because the Purse Account and Maryland-bred Fund are set to receive their statutory share of the revenue from all locations.

But it absolutely does matter. Although the revenue will come to us regardless, the location in Anne Arundel County is of crucial importance. (See article on page 1.)

I've heard the comments: "Things will be just fine if the slots go to Arundel Mills mall. Let them go ahead and build it—we need the money now!"

Any notion that a slots parlor at Arundel Mills will not destroy the racing industry in this state is faulty thinking.

If Laurel Park ceases to operate as a race track, the purse money from slots will do us no good, because we won't have anywhere to run our horses—except, perhaps, a short boutique meeting at Pimlico in the spring.

And that's what will happen if Laurel Park is forced to compete, on a daily basis, with a casino just down the road.

No business continues to operate if it is losing money, and Laurel will be guaranteed to continue as a money-loser.
